OMC Commissary schedules 'reset'

The time for change has come to the Ord Military Community Commissary. "We'll be closed for a store reset starting Aug. 10 at 3 p.m.," said store director Stephen Mitchell. The commissary will reopen with its new look Aug. 13.

The Defense Commissary Agency is in a continual process of changing how product is placed on commissary shelves during store "resets." The goal is to give commissaries worldwide a more customer-friendly product flow and a layout that is as consistent as possible from location to location.

"Although we have to take into consideration that no two commissaries are constructed exactly alike," said Steve Sones, chief of DeCA's store reset and "planogram team," "a customer-friendly product flow means dog food will be next to pet supplies instead of the charcoal. Peanut butter is best found next to the jam, and you shouldn't have to cruise three different aisles to find all your cleaning products. It's a simple matter of making the commissary layout more sensible by 'resetting' the store."

DeCA is intent on making the commissary shopping experience faster and easier, making the commissary the place to shop every day, not just on pay day. One priority is to help busy, active-duty shoppers make a quick run through their commissary and get home more quickly. So, baby food, snacks and other grab-and-go items are moved to the front of the aisles. Ideally, customers won't have to search the entire store to find a few necessary items.

"The whole idea, in a nutshell, is to get convenience into the shopping experience," said Sones. Consistency is also part of the reset equation. "Why shouldn't you be able to go to different commissaries and find basically the same layout?"

"We try not to inconvenience the customers while resetting stores," said Sones, "but we often have to close the store for a day, sometimes two, in order to tear down the shelving and move it, widen the aisles, and restock. But we think the customers will find they have a better shopping experience when we reopen."

Customer resistance to change can be the biggest challenge in resetting the stores, according to Sones. "Our customers usually like the new layout once they get used to it and acceptance is improving. In 2002 we had only 11 customer complaints on resets at the headquarters level."

Sales increases always follow a store reset and that's an indication that the user-friendly product flow is a good change.

To make changes easier for customers to follow, stores should have aisle layout maps available as well as generic aisle/item locators on their web pages. Store web pages are under the

Your opportunity to be heard

This fiscal year's last quarterly Army Family Action Plan focus group meeting is scheduled for Sept. 10 at the Presidio's Weckerling Center. This is your chance to have your voice heard and for you to make a difference. The total military community is invited to attend. This includes all service members – active-duty, reserves and National Guard, spouses, teens, retirees and Department of Defense civilians.

Issues are also needed. If you have concerns or problems that you would like to see resolved, please submit them to Army Community Service at OMC's General Stilwell Community Center. Free limited child care will be provided. For more information call Kevin Moore at 242-7652 or e-mail Kevin.Moore@monterey.army.mil.

Protection from discrimination

There are laws which make it illegal to discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability or age.

Also, a person who files a complaint or participates in an investigation of an Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) complaint, or who opposes an employment practice made illegal under any of the laws, is protected from retaliation.

If you believe that you have been discriminated against on one or more of the above mentioned bases, your first step is to raise your concern through your supervisory chain of command and provide your supervisors an opportunity to resolve it. If you are not satisfied with your supervisors' attempts and you want to pursue the matter, you must contact an EEO counselor or the EEO office within 45 days of the alleged discriminatory incident.

An assigned EEO counselor will provide information on how the federal EEO complaint process works, including timeframes and informal resolution of the complaint. If the allegation does not concern a protected basis, the counselor will advise the employee of other avenues of redress. These avenues may include, but are not limited to, the Civilian Personnel Advisory Center, the negotiated grievance procedure and union representation, the administrative grievance procedure, the Inspector General and the Employee Assistance Program.

For answers to questions or to obtain additional information, call the Presidio of Monterey Equal Employment Opportunity Office at 242-5015.

MPC fall registration

Class schedules for Monterey Peninsula College's fall term (Aug. 25 to Dec. 18) are available. Service members and family members qualify for the California resident fee rate, which is currently only $11 per credit. Students who are eligible for tuition assistance, federal financial aid or the Board of Governors Grant are encouraged to apply.

Big tuition increases nationwide

State colleges and universities in every region of the United States are this year preparing to impose their steepest tuition and fee increases in a decade. This is the latest fallout from state fiscal crises. Most governors and legislators have reduced aid to higher education. So it is reassuring to know that your Montgomery GI Bill benefits are increasing also.

MGIB benefits increased

Montgomery GI Bill eligibles may make an additional contribution of up to $600 to receive up to $150 in additional benefits per month (totaling $5,400). For details visit website www.va.gov.

GGU fall semester

The fall semester begins Aug 4 (through Oct. 11) at the new Monterey campus of Golden Gate University, located on the former Ft. Ord at 500 8th Street, Marina. Call 884-0900 or 422-3515 for information on the many business-related degrees offered at the undergraduate and graduate level.

CSUMB gains accreditation

California State University Monterey Bay is now a nationally recognized university. This means CSUMB degrees are recognized by other institutions and CSUMB students will find it easier to transfer credits, to get accepted into graduate school and to obtain financial aid. Check www.csUMB.edu for information and fall schedules.

Science lab class needed for DLIFLC's degree

The natural science requirement for the DLIFLC associate of arts degree in a foreign language includes a lab class. Monterey Peninsula College offers lab classes in astronomy, chemistry and geology on weekends this fall. Register now by mail for these classes because enrollment is limited. For information on the DLIFLC associate degree visit www.dli.army.mil and www.mpc.edu.

Monterey Road CDC

Families and teaching staff at the Monterey Road Child Development Center have had numerous opportunities to celebrate in the past few months. Nearly a year after the parents and teachers at center completed self-study materials and requested a validation visit from the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs, a validation team visited during the last week in March. The team had only good things to say about the center's staff, curriculum and interaction with parents. Accreditation is expected early in July.

During the spring Semester, Monterey Road CDC teamed up with Monterey Peninsula College and the California Association for the Education of Young Children to offer a class in language and literacy for young children. The class was held at Monterey Road CDC with the center's director serving as instructor. Teachers in childcare programs around the United States participated.

Great rental cars at low rates

Rental cars are now available for active-duty service members at ages 18 to 20 starting at $42 a day. Some restrictions apply. Rental cars are also available for eligible customers at ages 21 and above for $30 per day. Call ODR at 242-5506 to find out how you can rent a car.

Visit Army Community Service

Whether you're new to our community or not, you could probably use one of Army Community Service's free welcome packets with its map of the Monterey area and handy telephone directory for the military community, among other things.

If you're looking for a way to serve the military community you can become an ACS volunteer. No experience is needed.

ACS is located at Ord Military Community's General Stilwell Community Center.

At ACS, kids can play in a kid's corner while an ACS representative answers your questions about ACS programs and services.

Call ACS at 242-6890 or 242-7660.

Commissary 'reset'

locations link at <http://www.commissaries.com> along with store hours, contact information, store news and special customer service features.

Approximately 35 store resets are scheduled for this year, said Sones. And the headquarters reset team has begun moving European commissaries over to the standard store layout.

"Customers will find products, wherever feasible, in the same locations whether they are shopping in the United States or overseas," Sones said. "Customers may also notice changes in smaller sections of their commissary from time to time in response to marketplace changes as well as item selection, but that's not something that will usually cause customer inconvenience."

The Defense Commissary Agency's vision statement is: "The Commissary Benefit - Cornerstone of Military Quality of Life. It is our goal to deliver the premier quality of life benefit for our military efficiently and effectively."

With headquarters at Fort Lee, Virginia, the agency operates nearly 280 commissaries worldwide, providing groceries to military personnel, retirees and their families. Commissary patrons purchase items at cost plus a 5 percent surcharge, which covers the construction of new commissaries and the modernization of existing stores.

Patrons save an average of 30 percent or more on their purchases compared to commercial prices. These savings are worth more than $2,400 a year for a family of four.

A core military family support element, and a valued part of military pay and benefits, commissaries contribute to family readiness, enhance the quality of life for America's military and their families, and help recruit and retain the best and brightest men and women to serve their country.

The DLIFLC AA Degree Program

Summary

Congress authorized DLIFLC in December of 2001 to grant qualified students an Associate of Arts in Foreign Language degree. The Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges/Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACCJC/WASC) subsequently approved the requirements for this degree on 1 May, 2002.

Eligibility

Students must fulfill the DLIFLC diploma requirements from either the Basic or Intermediate language program.

Basic program students must achieve a minimum DLPT score of L2/R2/S1+ at graduation.

Intermediate program students must achieve a minimum DLPT score of L2+/R2+/S2 at graduation.

A cumulative grade point average of a “C” (2.0) or higher is required.

Any course grade below a D will disqualify a student from the degree program.

A student may earn a degree in only one language.

General Education Requirements

DLI does not teach all the required general education courses a student needs to receive an AA degree.

Basic language program students need to transfer five lower division courses to DLI.

1. English Composition
2. Natural or Physical Science (course must include a lab and requirement can not be satisfied with a CLEP test)
3. A course in American History or US Government
4. A basic introductory computer course
5. A college math course, such as algebra, geometry, or calculus

Graduates from the Intermediate language program need to satisfy one additional GED course in the area of Critical Thinking.

All general education transfer courses must be completed with a grade of “C” or higher.

Other Methods of Obtaining College Credit

Credits towards the general education requirements may also be satisfied through Advanced Placement (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), the Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support (DANTES), or for military training as recommended by the American Council on Education (ACE).

Students interested in the AA Degree Program should contact the AA Degree Program Office:

The Schoolyard News

School bells are ringing around the Monterey Peninsula and the following information on Army policy is worth review.

Students perform better academically and have fewer discipline problems when their parents become actively involved in their schools. To facilitate this involvement, Army policy allows soldiers duty time to volunteer in schools and makes parent-teacher conferences a soldier's place of duty.

Get involved in your child's school.

Army policy allows soldiers who are parents of high school seniors to request stabilization from PCS moves. The request is initiated by the soldier and must be submitted no later than Sept. 1 of the student's junior year (the student must be enrolled in DEERS).

Requests are submitted to the unit commander and should include DA Form 4187.

For information on these policies or for any school-related information call the School Liaison Office at 242-6904.

Local National Guard unit has opportunities for volunteers ...

Bravo Company of the 223rd Military Intelligence Bn. is a California National Guard unit located at Ord Military Community.

We currently have openings in all languages and accept all prior services.

If you enjoyed Monterey while at DLIFLC, consider returning here when you separate or retire. The 223rd offers many opportunities worldwide in support of active-duty missions. Spouses and dual-military couples are welcomed.

For complete information call Sgt. 1st Class Ramon Celestial at 831/393-8412 or e-mail him at Ramon.Celestial@ca.ngb.army.mil.
